ABOUT ME

I am this year's graduate of the Faculty of Electrical Information Processing at the Jagiellonian University in Cracow. Having received my master's degree with honors, I found myself in the top 1% of students at Jagiellonian University. In addition to the knowledge and skills acquired during my studies, I improved my skills working as a Full Stack Developer and closely cooperating with my employer's clients. Programming is not just a job for me, but also a passion, and broadening my skills in this area is not only professional development, but also one of the most enjoyable ways of spending my free time. Recently I've been successfully realizing dedicated IoT devices based on Arduino platform and Raspberry Pi.
